Dining Chair

MORRIS chair, by the creative duo GamFratesi, reinterprets the classic Viennese seat, by using new proportions which broaden its perspective, suggesting new references to design icons. The structure is made up of steam-bent solid beech elements and includes an upholstered chair with a woven cane backrest, available in two heights. The juxtaposition of the two versions gives a funny movement to the dining room's horizon, playing with heights and colours, suggesting irreverent furnishing solutions both in home environments and contract spaces.
