

Windows Bo Bardi - Butter Stool

Destroyers Builders

Product Type Stool

Building further on the series Windows of Bo Bardi – side tables, the new light yellowish version is taking one step further in a primitive way of making things. These primitive gestures I connect to youth; A natural state of curiosity, an urge for making. The origin of inspiration are the organic shaped windows in a brutalist concrete building; SESC Pompeia (Sao Paulo) by Italian-Brazilian architect Lina bo Bardi. This gesture of Lina bo Bardi, I see as a way of bringing wilderness in everyday life. Within these series of tables, when shaping these rounded forms, I am aiming to something similar; finding a balance between the fluid and the regularity, qualities that you both can find in the city.

Dimensions

H17.7" x D7" x W12.5"

H45cm x D18cm x W32cm

UPON ORDERING THIS DESIGN

Specify any details needed to place order.

These should be selection items on the website.