

Orno bench

RIES

Product Type Bench

Orno arose from the private commission for the eponymous pizza shop and continued its development until it became our first collection made entirely of solid wood.

The entire collection is designed under a same construction system that consists of basic structural elements –columns, beams, support planes– and whose joints are resolved in such a way that the final piece is read as a whole and not as a summation of parts. The rounding of the outer corners ends by softening the entire collection both tactile and visually.
