

Fackel Lamp

Tacchini

Product Type      Lamp

Fackel reinterprets ancient wall torches in a contemporary key through a metal bar that projects a warm, evocative glow, resembling the soft light of sunset.

In German, "Fackel" refers to the medieval wall torches that emitted naked flames on the walls of castles and monasteries. Umberto Bellardi Ricci translates this inspiration into an essential and sculptural lamp: a metal bar bent at two points and left to run parallel to the wall. The LED strip positioned at the back of the bar diffuses a warm and enveloping brightness, reflecting Tacchini's vision of lighting, creating welcoming scenes in which every space shines with its own light.
