

Unfurl Sconce

Bec Brittain

Product Type Sconce

Unfurl eloquently captures the organic gestures of nature. With its elegant design, Unfurl features glass diffusers resembling delicate leaves, suspended gracefully by gently bent brass tubes; the nesting leaf-shaped reflectors cradle the stamen-like light. This piece is a testament to the beauty found in simplicity and the intricate dance of the botanical world.

The Unfurl collection represents a shift in my work. While the collection is clearly inspired by botanical forms; what is less apparent is the creative methodology was also entirely inspired by the botanical world. What I learned from my time spent with nature through the last few years was how to have my role be one of guide and conduit, where I distill forms and structures into their essences. This work retains my thoughtful precision and material integrity, while exploring a new type of authorship.

As with all of the collections, custom commissions are welcomed.
